

Family Behaviors that Increase Your LGBTQ Child's Health & Well-Being

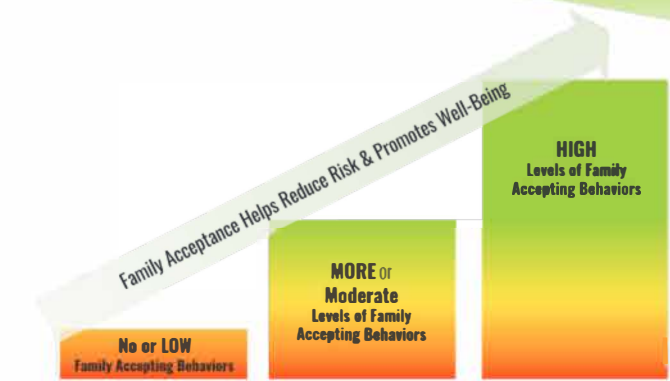

Research from the Family Acceptance Project[®] found more than 50 family accepting behaviors that help protect your lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer-identified (LGBTQ) child against health risks like depression, suicide and illegal drug use and help to increase your LGBTQ child's self-esteem, health and well-being. A little change makes a difference in decreasing your child's isolation and risk and giving them hope that their family will be there for them.

Family support saves lives!

BEHAVIORS THAT HELP...

Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you love them	Support your child's gender expression	Talk with your child or foster child about their LGBTQ identity and listen respectfully – even when you feel uncomfortable or think that being gay or transgender is wrong	Require other family members to treat your child with respect	Show affection when your child tells you or when you learn that your child is LGBTQ
Ask your child if – and how – you can help them tell other people about their LGBTQ identity	Welcome your child's LGBTQ friends to your home	Use your child's chosen name and the pronoun that matches their gender identity	Bring your child to LGBTQ groups and events	Get accurate information to educate yourself about your child's sexual orientation, gender identity and expression
Find a congregation that welcomes your LGBTQ / gender diverse child and family	Participate in family support groups and activities for families with LGBTQ and gender diverse children to get support for yourself and your family and guidance for supporting your LGBTQ child	Talk with your religious leaders to help your congregation become supportive of LGBTQ people	Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you're proud of them	Speak openly about your child's LGBTQ identity
Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you will be there for them – even if you don't fully understand	Connect your child with LGBTQ adult role models	Express enthusiasm for your child having an LGBTQ / gender diverse partner when they're ready to date	Stand up for your child when others mistreat them because of their LGBTQ identity or gender expression – at home, at school, in your congregation and in the community	Believe that your child can be a happy LGBTQ adult – and tell them they will have a good life
Welcome your child's LGBTQ partner to family events and activities
